New F-1 Students Outside the U.S.

Carefully review your I-20 immediately after receipt. The information in your passport should match the information on your I-20.

Step 1: Apply for an F-1 Visa

Now that you have been admitted to University of La Verne, you will need to apply for an F-1 student visa at your nearest U.S. Embassy or Consulate (usembassy.gov/).

Below is a general checklist for an F-1 visa application. Please be aware that the requirements may vary. Check with your U.S. Embassy or Consulate for specific details.

Making Your Appointment at the U.S. Embassy/Consulate

To make an appointment at a U.S. Consulate visit: usembassy.gov. Please note that processing does not include possible wait times for security clearances, so make your appointment well in advance. Information on visa wait times is available at travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/us-visas/study/student-visa.html.

Before your interview, we recommend you prepare by reading the following:

Applying for Your Visa: educationusa.state.gov/your-5-steps-us-study/apply-your-student-visa/short-term
Campus Life in the USA: share.america.gov/campus-life-in-usa/

Ten Points to Remember When Applying for a Non-Immigrant Visa:
nafsa.org/professional-resources/browse-by-interest/10-points-remember-when-applying-student-visa

If you are approved, the consular officer will place an F-1 visa in your passport.

Items to take to the Embassy or Consulate for your visa interview:

- Evidence of financial support for the period of time and amount indicated on the I-20 form
- Your acceptance letter from University of La Verne
- A passport (valid for at least six months)
- Evidence of English proficiency
- Proof that you have a permanent residence outside the U.S.
- An online non-immigrant visa application, form DS-160. You must:
 1. Complete the online visa application at ceac.state.gov/genniv/
 2. Print the application barcode page to bring to your interview
- One 2" X 2" photograph.
- The SEVIS I-901 Fee receipt (if applicable). If you do not currently have F-1 visa status, then you will be required to pay the fee. For more information visit: ice.gov/sevis/i901
- Evidence supporting your non-immigrant intent. You must establish that you have no intention of staying in the U.S. permanently, but are coming here for a temporary purpose, like pursuing your educational goals. Some examples of relevant ties that show you do not intend to stay in the U.S. permanently are a job, a house, social and family relationships, or a bank account in your country. Consular officers are aware that ties vary from person to person

Step 2: Travel to the U.S.

After obtaining the F-1 student visa, arrange your travel to the United States. Please keep in mind that students cannot enter the U.S. earlier than 30 days before the program start date on the I-20.

Upon arrival to the U.S., students must present the following documents to the inspecting officer:

- Passport (valid for at least six months)
- F-1 Visa
- Financial Documents
- I-20
- SEVIS Fee Receipt

For more information on what to expect studying in the U.S., please see: studyintheestates.dhs.gov/students

Step 3: Report to University of La Verne

You must report to your Designated School Official (DSO) at the University of La Verne within 30 days of the program start date on your I-20. Please visit the Office of International Services and Study Abroad with the following documents:

- Passport
- F-1 Visa
- I-94
- I-20 (stamped by immigration)
- Current U.S. Address and Telephone Number

Checklist – Prepare Ahead!

- Arrange your travel to the U.S. to arrive early enough for orientation. Note that F-1 visa holders cannot enter the U.S. earlier than 30 days before the start date of the I-20 form. You must arrive at University of La Verne by the program start date on the I-20 form
- Pay your I-901 SEVIS fee and print your receipt for payment. Instructions are included on page 11
- Secure housing accommodations either through homestay options, apartment/house rental, hotel, or room rental

- Plan your transportation to and from classes
- Write down your emergency contacts with phone numbers and addresses to bring with you
- Map out the area where you intend to live
- Arrange your transportation from the airport

Incoming Students Already in the U.S.

Currently in status other than F-1

Students who do not plan to leave the U.S. before beginning studies at University of La Verne, and are currently in an immigration status other than F-1 are required to change status by application to U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). In general, non-immigrants who are maintaining lawful status may apply for a change of status to F-1. The form and instructions can be found at uscis.gov/i-539.

It is important to note that a change of status from B-1 or B-2 visitor status may be very difficult unless the B-1 or B-2 entry visa was issued with the notation “prospective student.” B-1 and B-2 statuses are prohibited from enrolling in classes until the change of status to F-1 has been approved. F-2 individuals can enroll in classes part-time before they are approved for F-1 status.

Continuing University of La Verne students pursuing additional programs

If you are completing one program at University of La Verne and are pursuing an additional degree or program, you will need to go through the Admissions Office to complete a new application for your desired program. Please contact gradadmission@laverne.edu with additional questions.

In addition, the Office of International Services and Study Abroad will need to issue you a new I-20 for your new program within 60 days of the completion of your current I-20. We will then contact the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) so that they are aware of your new I-20.

Currently in F-1 status at another institution and transferring to University of La Verne

Students enrolled in another U.S. institution under F-1 immigration status who are enrolling at University of La Verne must complete a process in which the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) is notified of this change.

Transfer Your SEVIS Record

Contact your current school, and request to have your SEVIS record transferred at the end of your school's term or session. University of La Verne's SEVIS School code is LOS214F00321000. You must maintain your F1 status with your school before transferring to La Verne. Do not transfer your SEVIS record if it is “Terminated” or “Completed.” This process is not complete until you report to the University of La Verne’s Office of International Services and Engagement within 15 days of the program start date on your I-20.

Students Accompanied by Dependents

If your dependents, spouse or unmarried child(ren) under 21 years of age will accompany you to the U.S. or join you shortly after your arrival, you will need to provide the Office of International Services and Study Abroad with additional documentation showing your sufficient funding to meet your dependents' expenses which they will use to apply for the F-2 visa. You may request an I-20 for your dependents anytime during your studies.

Canadian Citizens

Step 1: Travel to the U.S.

Canadian citizens do no need to obtain an F-1 visa to study in the U.S. However, you will be required to pay the SEVIS fee.

Please keep in mind that students cannot enter the U.S. earlier than 30 days before the program start date on the I-20.

Upon arrival to the U.S., students must present the following documents to the immigration officer:

- Passport
- I-20 (Don't forget to sign your name on item 11 of the form)
- SEVIS fee receipt (FMjfee.com)
- Evidence of financial support
- Evidence of non-immigrant intent

Be sure to ask the immigration officer to stamp your I-94 card and I-20 with "F-1 D/S (Duration of Status)" so that you'll have F-1 status. If you are admitted to the U.S. without an I-94 indicating D/S or Duration of Status, you will be considered a "tourist" and therefore prohibited from studying. It is important that you tell the immigration officer that you will be a student.

Step 2: Report to the University of La Verne

You must report to your Designated School Official (DSO) at the University of La Verne within 30 days of the program start date on your I-20. Please visit the Office of International Services and Study Abroad with the following documents:

- Passport
- I-94
- I-20
- Current U.S. address and telephone number

Important Information for Incoming Students

2. Read the directions
3. Complete form I-901 online

NOTE: If you do no pay the I-901 fee, you will not be able to complete the interview at the embassy or consulate.

Immunizations and Health Records

Prior to enrollment, submitting a Physical Examination Form and an immunization record to the University of La Verne's Student Health Services is highly recommended. These documents provide us with a history of previous medical care and are the basis for your continued medical care in college. Please turn in these forms as soon as possible.

Instructions for Completing Your Health Requirements

The Physical Examination Form and an immunization record must be completed and signed by a health care provider. It cannot be completed by a parent or student. The Health History Record and the Summary of Notice for Privacy Practices must be completed by the student. If you are a minor (under 18) at the time the forms are being completed, they must be co-signed by a parent or guardian.

The physical exam and tuberculosis skin test must be completed within the past year prior to the 1st day of classes. If you have a history of a positive tuberculosis skin test, you will need proof of a chest x-ray within the past year. The Tdap (Tetanus/Diphtheria/Pertussis) vaccine must be given within the past 10 years. Td (Tetanus/Diphtheria) alone will not be accepted.

University of La Verne uses MedProctor to collect all Health records/documents and immunization records. MedProctor is a secure online data collection application that will securely assist the University of La Verne in collecting your medical related documents: immunizations records, titers, physical exam forms, health/medical certifications, any other medical documents, etc.

An email will be sent to international students through their laverne.edu email account from MedProctor once their enrollment is complete. Please open the email that was sent to create your personal and secure account at no charge. Please follow the directions on how to upload your documents.

Immunization records are required to prevent outbreaks of communicable diseases on campus as well as to help recognize students who may be at risk. If your immunization records cannot be located, you have two options:

- a. Re-immunization
- b. A blood test to determine immunity to measles, mumps, and rubella and hepatitis B. If the blood test indicates no immunity to these diseases, re-immunization will be necessary

If you had chicken pox (varicella) as a child, please make sure your provider indicates the month and year you had the disease. A positive varicella titer test will be accepted if no records are available. If you have not had chicken pox in the past, you will need to provide written documentation of two doses of the Varivax vaccine at least 28 days apart.

To fulfill the meningococcal requirement, you must have received the Meneveo or Menactra vaccine (MCV4) within the past 5 years.

For any additional questions or to schedule an appointment, please contact Student Health Services at +1 909-448-4619. Additional resources can be accessed at laverne.edu/health.

Health Insurance

Student Accident and Sickness Insurance Plan

The University Student Medical Insurance is required for all full-time (12 or more credit hours) undergraduate students. Full-time undergraduates are enrolled in the plan automatically and the premiums are included in the cost of tuition. If a student drops below full-time status, coverage is not provided automatically and, if eligible, must be purchased separately by the student through the university.

International graduate students (3 or more credit hours) are automatically enrolled in the University Student Medical Insurance plan and will be billed separately though the university.

All other eligible term- and semester-based students who are at least half time and wish to purchase the student medical insurance must do so prior to the last day of the add/drop period for each term or semester. To enroll, please contact Student Accounts.

For any additional questions, please contact the Student Health Services at studenthealthcenter@laverne.edu.

Transportation Around La Verne

No car? No problem! Los Angeles is huge, which is why going anywhere outside of your neighborhood might seem a bit daunting. Don't fret! There are several ways to get around if you don't have a car, or if you simply don't feel comfortable driving in certain parts of LA.

Carpool with a friend: Many students have cars. Don't be afraid to ask for a lift from one of your licensed and insured peers.

Take a taxi: Taxis in LA tend to be more expensive than other options, though are sometimes necessary in the event that you cannot access other modes of transportation or in cases of emergency.

Rideshare (Lyft, Uber, Sidecar): Rideshare apps tend to be cheaper than conventional taxis and are a convenient and safe option for smartphone users as cash is not required – the app store charges each ride to your credit card.

Take a train, bus, or subway: Los Angeles has an efficient public transportation system. Always remember to plan your route and check operating hours ahead of time.
